Transcript Title	Professional Responsibility,Hn
Effective Term	Fall 2018

Catalog Description This course focuses on the challenges facing practitioners in a specific professional field. Students will learn about the ethics, conduct, and other responsibilities associated with that profession, and will explore career choices within the field. ~~Seldom are undergraduates led to ponder the extent of the professional responsibilities tied to their aspirational careers, be they as attorneys, medical practitioners or social workers, among many others. HNRS 410, Professional Responsibility, is designed around the premise that awareness of professional responsibility is not only relevant to students' future careers but also the best way for them to assess the validity of their pre-professional orientation. The course will focus on current issues facing professionals. Assignments will lead students to demonstrate their understanding of the responsibilities of professionals in the field they are aspiring to join, as well as their mastery of decision-making processes in answer to particular, often ethically sensitive, issues.~~

Prerequisites Membership in the University Honors Program, sophomore standing or above, and prior completion of an the Honors Seminar (HNRS 190 or HNRS 195). ~~Freshman Seminar.~~ Concurrent enrollment with HNRS 195 an Honors Freshman Seminar is possible with special permission from the Honors Program.
