Academic Career	Undergraduate, Lawrence
Subject Code	ANTH	Course Number	581
Academic Unit	Department	Anthropology
	School/College	College of Lib Arts & Sciences
Locations	Lawrence
Do you intend to offer any portion of this course online?	No
Title	Food Systems and Sustainability
Transcript Title	Food Systems & Sustainability
Effective Term	Fall 2018

Catalog Description How shall we feed ourselves? In the face of unprecedented world population growth, humanity must meet the challenge of providing minimum caloric needs while preserving the health of ecosystems for future generations. In this course, students will explore different food cultures and production strategies developed by people in societies around the world. These include foraging, horticulture, pastoralism, intensified horticulture, and industrial agriculture. We will compare the social, economic, and environmental sustainability of various food systems and technologies and their impact on larger social and ecological systems.

Prerequisites ANTH 150 or ANTH 160

Cross Listed Courses:

Credits	3
Course Type	Lecture (Regularly scheduled academic course) (LEC)
Grading Basis	A-D(+/-)FI (G11)
Is this course part of the University Honors Program?	No
Are you proposing this course for KU Core?	No
Typically Offered	Every Two Years
Repeatable for credit?	No

Principal Course Designator

Course Designator S - Social Sciences

Are you proposing that the course count towards the CLAS BA degree specific requirements?

No

Will this course be required for a degree, major, minor, certificate, or concentration?

No

Rationale for Course Proposal This course builds on several years of the instructor's research on anthropological understandings of food systems and sustainable agriculture. Some of the content of this proposed course was debuted in ANTH 301 – Anthropology through Film and students have responded well to the focus on food systems and sustainability.

Title Sociology Special Topics: _____

Transcript Title Sociology Special Topics:

Effective Term Fall 2018

Catalog Description The study of selected topics of current interest in Sociology. Check the Sociology Department website for course descriptions of current offerings. May be repeated for credit as topics vary.

Prerequisites None

Cross Listed Courses:

Credits 3

Course Type Lecture (Regularly scheduled academic course) (LEC)

Grading Basis A-D(+/-)FI (G11)

Is this course part of the University Honors Program? No

Are you proposing this course for KU Core? No

Typically Offered As necessary

Please explain This special topics course is designed to allow flexibility to offer timely courses on current topics of interest that don't fit within our current course offerings. If faculty wish to continue teaching the same special topics course the expectation is that a new course proposal will be submitted to make it a regular course offering.

Repeatable for credit? Yes

How many times may this course be taken 99 - AND/OR - For how many maximum credits 999

Can a student be enrolled in multiple sections in the same semester?

Yes

Principal Course Designator

Course Designator S - Social Sciences

Are you proposing that the course count towards the CLAS BA degree specific requirements?

No

Will this course be required for a degree, major, minor, certificate, or concentration?

Yes

Which Program(s)?	Program Code - Name
	(SOC-BA/BGS) Sociology, B.A./B.G.S.
	(SOC-MIN) Sociology, Minor

Describe how: This course will count towards the required jr/sr electives for the SOC-BA/BGS and the SOC-MIN.

Rationale for Course Proposal We are having low enrollment in our SOC 600: special topics courses and we believe it is because the course number is intimidating for students. We want a jr/sr special topics course at a lower number that will allow flexibility for faculty to teach timely courses on select topics of special interest that don't need to be at the 500/600 level.
